Issue 6: Mayfair (you are now bankrupt)

Agoonoram

Carnival

We are nearing the end of Agoonoree, and what better way to celebrate than with a carnival!!! The Scouts and Guides farewelled our gorgeous guests with food, activities and games from fairy floss to snow cones, cricket to basketball, jumping castles to go-karts. As this is the last edition of the Agoonoram, the Agoonollamas would like to issue a personal goodbye to the guests. We hope you've had an incredible week, and that you've enjoyed this camp as much as we have.

JOKE

Q: Why do girls always travel in odd numbers?

A: Because they can't even!!

HAHAHAHAHAHAHAHAHA!!!

“I really enjoyed the activities and my patrol.*

This year has been filled with fun, friends and laughter and to celebrate this great camp, we have put together a collage of your favourite moments and stories from around the camp.

Headlines

OMG!!

- One lucky Orange trooper has given birth to a gnome with a red hat!
- Rumour has it Claire Frost (VC) is too tall to fit into the porta-showers.
- What’s with the deathly hallows signs? (The Agoonollamas started this)
- Where’s baby bacon?
- “Sorry Grey” in advance, Sincerely, Yellow
- Gnomes are not allowed in tents
- Meow drops (Milton)
- There was no baby bacon at the petting zoo ;(

Agoonoree is fun Agoonoree is nearly done

*We laugh together
We cry together
We dance together
But most importantly
We love each other*

We have had fun at all the activities and hope everyone has too.

Love <3 Grey Elk Patrol

On behalf of the leaders and organisers of the Agoonoree, we are extending a massive thank you to all of the Scouts, Guides, Ranger Guides, Venturers and so on for making the camp possible. The glowing feedback from the guests is enough evidence that they’ve had the time of their lives. Thank you for brightening their holidays!

Camp Memories

George (Grey Alligator) thought the camp was super fun.

Lauryln from Red Emu (right) said, "Camp was REALLY fun!"

Zac from Grey Camel loved the abseiling.

Josh's Adventures (Blue Albatross)

Josh from Blue Troop, Albatross patrol has been let loose on Agoonoree. Josh (as we all know) has a not so hidden talent of dancing. He won a double pass to see 'Tarzan,' at the movies, at the disco, he is still letting us know about his awesome win.

Josh is very happy about the activity being cancelled because he really likes colouring in. Josh thinks he is cute and Miles (Blue Albatross' Venturer) agrees with him.

During our activity Josh found an obsession with bubbles. Josh is now in love with bubbles. Josh is now refusing to walk anywhere and is really tired!!!

Catch ya's!

Blue Albatross.

Jordy- from Purple Emperor Penguin said "The best part of Agoonoree is the friends I've made and the abseiling."
