QUEEN ELIZABETH II

DID YOU KNOW?

Did you know Queen Elizabeth was involved in Girl Guides? Queen Elizabeth became a Girl Guide when she was 11 way back in 1937 when she was a Princess. Her sister, Princess Margaret joining as a Brownie the same year alongside their mother who became a Patron, later creating the 1st Buckingham Palace Guide Company.

Queen Elizabeth II was the Patron from 1953 until her death on September 8, 2022. As well as being a Patron, the Queen was a Girl Guide, Ranger and loved Guiding, while also successfully holding her reign in the Royal Family.

During WWII Queen Elizabeth was designated the Honorary Junior Commander in the Auxiliary Territorial Service During the war. She trained as a driver and mechanic and reached the rank of honorary Junior Commander five months later.

INTERVIEW WITH OUR VERY OWN AGOONOREE QUEEN.... MERRILL!

Merrill has attended more camps than any other camper!

In her 47 years of scouting, she has attended 40 Agoonorees. This is symbolised by the ruby stripe on her scarf. Invited to join the camp by the first Chief, Peter Blatch, Merrill has been at Bungalow, Night Activities and Trading. Outside of Agoonoree, Merrill was a leader at Birkdale Scouts, and now part of Redlands District. Her favourite part of camp are the opportunities for growth it offers to everyone involved. Merrill is great to chat to, and you can find her at the Merch Tent.

Meet Jono

Jono is one of our key figures around camp. He has been involved in Agoonoree for 16 years, and Scouts for 22. Jono is from Narangba. His favourite part of camp is all the hard work that goes into setting up, and watching it pay off over the coming days. He also enjoys seeing people he doesn't usually. Make sure to say Hi! to Jono if you see him around camp!

Meet Amanda

Amanda is an important part of the Girl Guide community, being a part of Guiding itself for 20+ years. Amanda started in the Oxley District as a Junior Leader. We asked Amanda about her favourite part of Agoonoree and what keeps her coming back each year, she responded by saying that she loves all the kids, Guides and Scouts. She loves watching all of our guests arriving into camp and the excitement on their faces when they get a new achievement
